RED LENTILS

- ORIGIN: INDIA
- PRODUCT DESCRIPTION:
 - Red lentil or masoor dal is one of the most widely used lentils in India owing to its ease of use. It is highly nutritious and flavourful, thus making it an ideal choice for healthy everyday cooking.
 - They cook very quickly and easily and turn creamy and golden coloured on cooking. They require no soaking prior to cooking. These lentils are valued for their protein content and are considered the third richest plant food in protein.
 - These are rich in vitamins A, C, E, copper, and zinc, which are important nutrients that protect and strengthen vision and boost our immune system. It also contains antioxidants which prevent and reduce cell and tissue damage that leads to ageing rapidly.
